The Daily Oregonian

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 2, 1863.

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save!

DUTIES OF JURORS.—For the purpose of giving information to those summoned as jurors at the next or other terms of Court, we publish by request the following sections from the Code which goes into operation to-day, and also the Rule established by Judge Shattuck for this District as to the manner of procuring discharge from such service:

SEC. 920. A person may be excused from acting as a juror when for any reason his interests or those of the public will be materially injured by his attendance, or when his own health or the death or sickness of a member of his family requires his absence; but no person shall be excused on account of the causes in this section mentioned unless it appear that after he was summoned he could not by reasonable precaution have provided against them.

SEC. 933. The Court to which the panel of jurors is returned by the Sheriff may impose a fine not exceeding twenty dollars for each day a juror without reasonable cause neglects to attend.

RULE

In the matter of excuse from serving as a juror:

Applications to be excused from serving as jurors must be made by an attorney of this Court on behalf of the applicant, and must be based upon the oath or affidavit of the party or on a certificate of membership in a fire company in this city; and when the cause assigned is injury to the interests of the party or of the public, it must appear how, wherein and to what extent such injury is likely to accrue, and that due diligence has been used to have the supposed injury prevented; and in all cases except those where a party is exempted by statute or incapacitated by sickness, the applicant will be required to procure a substitute whom the sheriff will be willing to call and the Court to receive as a juror.

HENRY WINTER DAVIS ON EMANCIPATION.—This distinguished Marylander recently made a speech at Hamilton, Ohio, in which he discussed the emancipation question in terms that contrast powerfully with the course of many Northern men. We take the following from the report of his remarks:

They were amused in Maryland at the anxiety of the Yankees about the effect of emancipation. They don't know the negro. There is only one thing that will make him run, and that is the consciousness that his master is behind him. [Laughter.] In Pennsylvania they had laws against the emigration of blacks, but when did the good people of that State hear of a free negro of Maryland going thither? It is only the slave that flies from the South. Do away with slavery and the negro will keep on the sunny side of the Union—abolish slavery in the South, and you abolish the possibility of the negro coming North.

By the act of the South the Fugitive Slave Law is a dead letter. Who will dare to cross the frontier to catch a fugitive? If slavery continues, you can no more keep the negroes out of the free States than Pharaoh could keep the frogs out of the kneading troughs of Egypt. [Laughter.] They will lie on every street. But protect them in the South by a law of Congress, make what the President has proclaimed a legal fact, that the Government must use them and will use them, and having proclaimed freedom throughout the land will not allow it to be violated, and the terrors of your sensitive fellow citizens will melt away. You will have reciminations as long as the institution exists. It might be asked why this had not been said at the South. It had been, forty years ago. Clay was borne down, as it were, by the current of the Mississippi. Northern men were sworn on the negro as on the Bible. There was a coalition between the slaveholders of the South and the politicians of the North, but the principles of Clay have not died out. It is a question of methods, and not whether emancipation is right. It was a question whether slavery had not so disensed the body politic as to endanger the Government in its removal. But this rebellion has changed the relation of the people to slavery, and we ought to be thankful that the rebellion has placed us in such a position that we have now the opportunity of placing the institutions of this land upon the basis of permanent freedom. [Applause.] This is not the crazy theory of Abolitionists. To abolish slavery now is the natural course of things—the current is that way—it is harder not to abolish slavery than to abolish it. The policy of the President's proclamation is not a policy to be carped at and criticised but to executed. And the man who says he is for the Union but cannot support the President, because of the proclamation, is not fit to represent any district of the United States in Congress. [Applause.] The speaker's quarrel with the President was this: Not that he has done too much, but that he has done too little. He ought now to have 100,000 armed negro soldiers in the middle of South Carolina, and that class of persons who refuse to fight by the side of negroes because afraid of being equal with them, do not deserve the name of free men, for they refuse to fight by the side of such men as Washington led. At the battle of Bladensburg, he was assured by an eye witness now living, that half of the troops that came to the relief of our forces which had been disgracefully repulsed were negroes, and they gallantly sustained themselves in the thickest of the fight.

THE ORIGINAL COPPERHEAD.—The following is an extract from Benedict Arnold's proclamation to the citizens and soldiers of the United States, issued October 20, 1780:

You are promised liberty by the leaders of your affairs, but is there an individual in the enjoyment of it, saving your oppressors? Who among you dare speak or write what he thinks against the tyranny which has robbed you of your property, imprisons your sons, drags you to the field of battle, and is daily deluging your country with your blood?

Your country once was happy, and had the proffered peace been embraced the last two years of misery had been spent in peace and plenty, and repairing the desolation of a quarrel that would have set the interests of Great Britain and America in a true light, and cemented their friendship.

I wish to lead a chosen band of Americans to the attainment of peace, liberty and safety, the first objects in taking the field.

What is America but a land of widows, orphans and beggars—but what need of arguments to such as feel infinitely more misery than tongue can express? I give my promise of most affectionate welcome to all who are disposed to join me in measures necessary to close the scene of our affliction, which must be increased until we are content with the liberality of the parent country, who still offers us protection and personal exemption from all taxes but such as we shall think fit to impose upon ourselves. BENEDICT ARNOLD.

The modern disciples of the traitor of the Revolution copy his style of argument and appeal, and the response of the people is about the same as was made to the effort of the recreant Benedict.

(Special Correspondence to the OREGONIAN.)

Indian Treaty at the Lapwai Agency.

LAPWAI, Idaho Ter., May 25th, 1863.

BRETON OREGONIAN:

The Council will meet this morning, when a proposition will be submitted to the Indians, the principal features of which are as follows: The whole tribe are to leave their present abode and to be located on the Kamai Prairie which is situate on the south side of the South Fork of the Clearwater, and is said to contain some five or six hundred square miles. The said lands, or reservation, is to be surveyed out into allotments, each family to be allotted a farm in the proportion indicated in my former letter, as per provisions of the treaty of 1854 with the Omahas. The Kamai Prairie is said to entertain some very valuable agricultural lands, interspersed with numerous beautiful valleys and streams of water which empty into the Clearwater. The centre of the prairie is reserved for grazing purposes, to be used in common for the benefit of the whole tribe. Many inducements will be held out to the Indians to accept the proposition, amongst others it is proposed to fence in the farms for them, to break the ground, &c., besides the Government is to erect one or more saw and grist milles to be used exclusively for the benefit of the tribe. They are also to have annuities given them of such articles as will be most useful to encourage agricultural pursuits, the amount in value to be a matter of deliberation and adjustment in the Council. Provision will be made in the treatry for those who have made improvements, to enable them to sell and dispose of said improvements at fair valuation, and to give a quit-claim to their possessory right to the land. This will not give an absolute title that being already vested in the United States by virtue of the existing treaty. The lands can be settled on and pre-empted under the existing laws, and in respects will be subject to the same regulations as other public domain of the nation.—Very stringent clauses will be inserted to protect the rights of the Indians and to prevent them being swindled out of their improvements by "land grabbers." From all I can learn, the chances are that these propositions will be acceptable.

The head chief of the tribe, Lawyer, is preparing an elaborate statement which he will submit to the Council. In it he will allude to some past transactions which I do not now propose to anticipate. I shall forward you his views in full, as also those of some other chiefs, which will probably throw some light on how the $60,000 has been expended, that was to have built houses, &c., &c., as per provisions of the Stevens-Palmer treaty of 1855, but which said houses do not appear on this reservation.

Travel now is very cheap, the steamer Nez Perce Chief left Lewiston yesterday morning, fare to Colile, free. Opposition to the life of trade they say, but such opposition is rather too steep to infuse virility into the coffers of any company, especially when wood is worth $10 per cord. In a few days I will write again. "LAWYER."

LAPWAI, I. T., May 28, 1863.

The boundaries of the proposed new reservation mentioned in my last, have been slightly changed. The Council convened on Monday, and the proceedings were opened by Commissioner Hale, who informed the Indians of the object of their meeting. The proposition as to the boundary was this:—To commence at a point on the south bank of the Clearwater, two miles below the mouth of the Lapwai Creek, running thence due north five miles; thence running easterly to a point on the North Fork of the Clearwater, five miles from its mouth; thence to a point on the Oro Fino Creek, five miles above its mouth; thence southerly to a point one mile north of the South Fork of the Clearwater; thence running along the north side of the said South Fork of the Clearwater, one mile distant therefrom, until it intersects the North Fork of the South Fork of the Clearwater; thence down the North Fork and across the south bank of the South Fork of Clearwater; thence in a straight line, westerly, to the north end of Lake Waha um Walpan at the head of the Wa Ha creek; thence northerly, in a direct line, to the place of beginning.

This boundary comprehends an area of about 1200 square miles, including the Kamai prairie. The proposition to induce the Indians to accept this boundary was that all the provisions of the Stevens-Palmer treaty are to continue in full force and effect,—that all the fertile lands within the limits of the reserve are to be surveyed into twenty-acre lots, one of which is to be assigned each Indian, man or woman over the age of 21 years to be theirs under fee simple, forever; each lot is to have a good substantial fence erected around it, and the land to be plowed; each Indian to select a lot where he or she pleases, and to have a patent issued for the same. The sum of $50,000 is to be expended in agricultural implements, such as wagons, plows, etc., mules, oxen, sheep, and all other necessary articles for farming. The sum of $10,000 to be expended for a saw and grist mill, to be erected in the Kamai country. The sum of $30,000 for two school houses, and necessary buildings for the same. There are to be three teachers at an expense of $6,000 for the first year and $5,000 for each succeeding 14 years. A blacksmith's shop is to be erected on the Kamai, for which $2,000 is to be paid the first year, and $500 per year for the 15 succeeding years. The sum of $2,000 per annum is to be paid for the necessary repairs for mills, shops, buildings, etc., for the 15 years; also $4,200 is to be expended for the erection of a hospital, and necessary furniture etc. The whole of which stipulations are to be complied with in one year after the ratification of the treaty by the Senate. The sum of $4,665 is to be paid for horses supplied, the Government during the Yakima war, by the Nez Perces. Those Indians who have improved farms are to have the privilege of selling their improvements to the whites, provided the sale is made within one year after the ratification of the treaty. This is the substance of the whole proposed treaty.

When the Commissioners had finished, the chief, Yate-se-mil-can, addressed them and asked particularly whether this was the absolute and positive proposition of the American Government, which was answered in the affirmative by the Commissioners.

The head chief, "Lawyer," then addressed them in the following language:

"My friends, Mr. Hale, Mr. Howe and Mr. Hutchings, you spoke to us yesterday (Monday) about your proposed new Reservation; you proposed that to-day (Tuesday) you would say what you would give us. I understand you to say that what you have now said was in the name of your Government, and we understand fully all that has been said to us; we all of us understand you. As for me and my Chiefs, we are governed by law; we are here to-day to adhere to the treaty that has been made, and which we on our side have kept. Not one of us is grasping at shadows, or the simple saying of any outside persons. We once had a principal Chief, and we remained under his influence, we regarded his laws. The Great Creator of the universe who governs all things, lives under the decrees of His laws; we are under the same sacred influence. The head of your Government has now spoken to us through you, as, the red men, and the law we still adhere to, for the one and the other (meaning the law was equally binding on the Government and the Indians.) In the same manner that my people receive the law of God as binding, so do we acknowledge and consider the law of your Government is binding on us and on you, for the law is sacred. As for me and my people, and these Chiefs, they have all understood what you have said; we understand that these propositions you have made come from the Government, through you, and that they are the last. We are not going to dodge, we will face the whole thing, and when we come to an agreement we intend to be bound by it. You have made these propositions, they are in your hands yet. Here are my Chiefs, and boy, like me, are under the sacred influence of the law from above; those who will cast off all law, if any do, I will not acknowledge as belonging to me; they would be considered by me as outlaws. Your propositions are now before us; your Government previously alluding to the Stevens and Palmer treaty marked out our boundaries; that was your proposition. We still adhere to that law and the law of righteousness. You have broken the treaty, not we! When you broke through the treaty, it did not make my heart sad and sore. I only wondered why you did it. Now, I am called on to look upon this proposition of yours after the Americans have broken their treaty so often. That engagement was made with us for twenty years, with the boundary as made by your Government; we understand very well what twenty years mean. We were given to understand at the time we made the treaty, that we should have the guarantee secured to us for twenty years, and that the treaty would be observed. By adhering to that treaty we were told that we should become as white men. We have been looking on; we have been waiting; many articles in that treaty have not been fulfilled by the Government. This winter we were told that Col. Nesmith was in Congress at Washington; we learned what he said there; I understand that there was a division of opinion on Col. Nesmith's propositions, part were in favor of them and part were not. Here we are listening to say again before the twenty years are ended; now we are anxious to know what you have to give us, when you have told us fully, then we will show you our hearts. Perhaps by contemplating you will find something that is wrong in your proposition; we will examine into what we shall propose, and if there is anything wrong we will correct it, so that the law and the treaty and the agreements to be entered into shall be just and straight and upright. We are but Indians, miserable and ignorant, and need a law that is just and right. I have shown you my heart thus far."

I have been particular in thus giving you a full and verbatim statement, for reasons that will present themselves in the progress of the treaty. You will see that there is much keen sarcasm pervades the whole. Commissioner Hale replied in a brief and appropriate manner. The "Big Thunder" bands and their allies, the "Three Feathers," the "Joseph," the "Quill Quill Celvis" and others, have now agreed to come in, and join the Council.

"LAWYER."

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to May 26th.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A correspondent of the World, who has been a prisoner in the Confederacy for three weeks, and just returned, says that at Atlanta, Columbus and other places, he with other prisoners were greeted with substantial evidences of kindly feeling. The solid men of the South were anxiously asking what terms we can offer and what is to be their fate. The impression is gaining ground in the Confederacy that we can outlast them and overrun their country. In relation to the capture of Col. Straight's command the correspondent says, Straight fought until his ammunition was exhausted, and his animals gave out. Forrest's loss was 5,000. This correspondent also says that there are no forces in the interior of the Confederacy. The railroads are in bad condition. The strength of the rebel army may be set down at 300,000 men, half of whom are in Middle Tennessee and Virginia.

NEW YORK, May 27.—A special Washington correspondent of the World says it is rumored here, and I believe the rumor to be true, that great fears are entertained by the Administration of an invasion by the rebels into Pennsylvania. Gen. Schenck at Baltimore is said to have communicated his fears to the authorities at Washington and those at Harrisburg and the rumor has spread.

The Times' special correspondent says a dispatch from Grant says he is perfectly confident of taking Vicksburg, but it must be done by investment and approaches. A week may be consumed in its capture.

MURFREESBORO, May 26.—The rebels are falling back again. The lines are open. There are little or no forces on this side of Duck river. Scout intelligence indicates that the rebel force in the vicinity of Tullahoma number 50,000 men, of whom 44,000 are infantry and 6,000 cavalry. Gen. Forest has been made a Major-General and has gone with his cavalry to Mississippi. Wheeler takes his place at Columbus. Gen. Morgan has charge of the line on the Cumberland river. Two regiments of rebels are left at Bridgeport where they are strongly fortified. Engineers have been engaged for two months in laying out the works at Chattanooga but as yet they have done but little work on them. But few rebel troops are in East Tennessee. The mountains are full of refugees who on Thursday at a turnout repulsed a considerable force sent to arrest them. The rebels have supplies for six weeks at Chattanooga.

NEW YORK, 27th.—Washington dispatches to the Herald say some uneasiness is felt hereabouts, particularly among traders and sutlers, on account of a report that a large force is coming this way. The facts ascertained are that the rebels have repaired the railroad from Culpepper, where there is quite a large force, principally cavalry. Their extreme pickets towards our lines are at Brandy Ford, where Gen. Hampton's brigade is doing duty. Their troops carry shelter, tents, and are well provided. The impression prevails that Stuart is concentrating a large body of the cavalry between Culpepper Court House and Brady's Station.

CHICAGO, 27th.—A Cairo dispatch brings news from Vicksburg to Thursday last. The rebel batteries on the hill north of the town were taken and turned on the enemy on the evening of the same day. The water batteries at the foot of the hill were captured at the same time. On Friday morning Pemberton sent a flag of truce to Grant, offering to surrender Vicksburg if he would allow the rebels to lay down their arms and march out. The offer was refused. Grant moved on his work and the rebels were driven to the inner fortifications. Gen. Logan is stationed at Big Black Bridge. Grant feels certain he will be able to take care of Johnson. The latter has only about 10,000 men, exclusive of what may be received by way of reinforcements. Grant's army is larger than is generally supposed, and quite numerous enough for the work on hand. It stretches completely around the doomed city, our right resting on the river. Vicksburg is full of women and children; not only original inhabitants, but many have come in from the country for safety.

RECORDER'S COURT.—Four cases were up before Recorder McCoy yesterday, for being drunk and disorderly. Francis Lacout and Thomas Lee were fined, the former fifteen and the latter ten dollars and costs; and Thomas Kenseller had to shell out five dollars and costs. H. W. Teakle, not having any money convenient, was committed to jail for three days.

FOURTH OF JULY ROLL.—The list of names on the roll calling for a public meeting to-night at the Council Chamber to make arrangements for the celebration, numbered about twelve hundred yesterday. Capt. Dodge, who has the roll, will leave it at Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office to day, where it can be signed by all those who desire to.

LITERATURE.—Squire Barrett is never behind time in keeping his counters well covered with the latest issues of all kinds of reading matter. He placed before us last evening a huge bundle of magazines and pictorials, among which were Harper's weekly and monthly, Frank Leslie's, the New York Illustrated, and many other publications. They can all be obtained at Barrett's News Depot.

THEATRICAL.—We are pleased to announce the return of Mr. G. B. Waldron's theatrical company, after an absence of several days. Their performances at Dalles and Vancouver were highly successful. Mr. Waldron has now settled permanently in our city, and will from time to time add new features to his talented troupe. They will perform to-night, opening with the great sensation drama of the "Dead Heart," Mr. and Mrs. Waldron taking the leading characters.

TREASURE.—Well, Fargo & Co. shipped thirty-six thousand dollars in treasure on the steamer Sierra Nevada, which left this morning.

ON HAND.—Multnomah No. 2 and Protection No. 4 fire companies held meetings last night and passed resolutions to participate in the celebration of the approaching Fourth.

PUBLIC MEETING.—Do not forget the Fourth of July meeting at the Council Chamber this evening at seven o'clock.

ZOU ZOUS.—The Zou Zous meet for a drill to-night at the Gymnasium.

AUCTION.—A. B. Richardson, Auctioneer, will sell at auction at ten o'clock this morning all the furniture, bar fixtures, &c., of the Shakespeare Hotel, on Front street. A good opportunity is offered to persons in want of such.

RESOLUTIONS.—At a special meeting of Columbian Engine Co. No. 3, held on Thursday evening, May 28th, 1863, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the reception given by Jackson Engine Company No. 1, of Dalles, to Columbian Engine Co. No. 3, of Portland, on their recent visit to that city, was such as will always be remembered by each and every member of the Company who had the pleasure of being present on that occasion, as one of the most pleasing episodes and cordial meetings in their firemen's life, and was convincing proof that the members of Jackson Engine Co. No. 1 are imbued with that emulating spirit which goes so far to make the firemen's otherwise dangerous and arduous life a noble one; and that the kindness and good will manifested to the members of Columbian Engine Co. No. 3, as well as to the accompanying guests, will ever be remembered with like good will, and the liveliest feelings of gratitude.

Resolved, That the thanks of Columbian Engine Co. No. 3 are due and are hereby returned to the citizens generally of Dalles City for the kind manner in which they tendered their hospitalities to the members of the company on the recent excursion to that city.

Resolved, That to the ladies of the Dalles, who, by their presence graced, and whose smiles added to the pleasures of the occasion, are due our heartiest acknowledgments, and their memory will be ever kindly cherished.

Resolved, That we highly appreciate the kindness of Mr. L. W. Case and lady, Mr. J. L. Allison of the Sentinel, and his associates, Mr. W. H. Newell of the Mountaineer, and Messrs. F. C. Brown,

IN A PERFECT MANNER,
A greater range of work than any other machine.
The value of a Sewing Machine cannot be estimated by the amount of wood, iron, brass or steel used in its construction, but by the manner in which these materials are put together, and the quantity and quality of the work it turns out. You can buy a watch or a piano-forte for very little money; but if you want either for your own use, you wish an article which can be relied upon, and you will purchase accordingly.

DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to use and recommend, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, anoint it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Canker or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea, on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea, it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

How to Procure a Husband

The following true story might, perhaps furnish matter for a little comedy, if comedies were still written in England It is generally the case that the more beautiful and the richer a young female is the more difficult are both her parents and herself in the choice of a husband, and the more offers they refuse The one is too tall the other too short this not wealthy, that not re pectable enough Meanwhile one spring passes after another, and year after year carries away leaf after leaf of the bloom of youth and opportunity, after opportunity

Miss Harriet Selwood was the richest heiress in her native town, but she had already completed her twenty seventh year and beheld almost all her young friends united to men whom she had at one time or other discarded Harriet began to be set down for an old maid Her parents became really uneasy, and she herself lamented in private a position which is not a natural one, and to which those whom nature and fortune have been niggardly of their gifts are obliged to submit But Harriet, as we have said, was both handsome and very rich

Such was the state of things when her uncle, a wealthy merchant in the north of England, came on a visit to her parents He was a jovial, lively, straightforward man, accustomed to attack all difficulties boldly and coolly

"You see," said her father to him one day, "Harriet continues single The girl is handsome, what she is to have for her fortune you know even in the scandal loving town not a creature can breathe the slightest imputation against her and yet she is getting to be an old maid"

"True," replied the uncle, "but look you, the grand point in every affair in this world is to seize the right moment, this you have not done—it is a misfortune but let the girl go along with me, and before the end of three months I will return her to you as the wife of a man as young and wealthy as herself"

Away went the niece with the uncle On the way home he thus addressed her

"Mind, what I am going to say You are no longer Miss Selwood, but Mrs Lumley, my niece, a young, wealthy, childless widow You had the misfortune to lose your husband, Colonel Lumley, after a happy union of a quarter of a year, by a fall from his horse while hunting"

"But uncle"

"Let me manage, if you please, Mrs Lumley Your father has invested me with full powers Here, look you, is the wedding ring given you by your late husband Jewels, and whatever else you need, your aunt will supply you with, and accustom yourself to cast down your eyes"

The keen witted uncle introduced his niece everywhere, and the young widow excited a great sensation The gentlemen thronged about her, and she soon had her choice out of twenty suitors

Her uncle advised her to take the one who was deepest in love with her, and a rare chance decreed that this should be precisely the most amiable and opulent The match was soon concluded, and one day the uncle desired to say a few words to his future nephew in private

"My dear sir," he began, "we have told you an untruth"

"How so? Are Mrs Lumley's affections"

Nothing of the kind My niece is sincerely attached to you"

"Then her fortune, I suppose, is not equal to what you told me"

"On the contrary, it is larger"

"Well, what is the matter, then?"

"A joke, an innocent joke, which came into my head, one day, when I was in a good humor—we could not well recall it afterwards My niece is not a widow"

"What is Colonel Lumley living"

"No, no, she's a spinster"

The lover protested that he was a happier fellow than he had conceived himself, and the old maid was forthwith metamorphosed into a young wife

A SECESH FEMALE IN THE PROVOST MARSHAL'S OFFICE —While sitting, a day or two since, in the office of Lieutenant W O Osgood, a member of Gen Mitchell's Staff and Provost Marshal of this city, I witnessed a little incident, which showed quite plainly some of the many evasions and quibbles practiced by the Secesh, to gain their ends, which, however, are not always attained, as will be seen by the following

The Lieutenant has been acting in his present capacity for a long time, and knows, perhaps, better than any other man living, the citizens, and having taken the matter into his own hands, each and every person wishing to pass through or out of the city is compelled to apply in person to him for the necessary pass

At the time above mentioned, a very handsomely attired and altogether good looking female, whom it was plainly to be seen belonged to the upper crust of society, entered the Lieutenant's office, and, wreathing her face in her most seductive smiles, begged of the Lieutenant that he would grant her a pass to go a few miles in the country, to visit some of her relatives

To this the Lieutenant made no objection, provided she could prove her loyalty, and upon being questioned, she said that she was as truly a loyal woman to the Constitution as lived This, however, was not entirely satisfactory, and the following dialogue ensued

Lieut. Osgood—Madame, do you recognize the right and authority of the Constitution and laws of the United States?

Lady—Yes sir, I recognize the Constitution

Lieut Osgood—That is not the question Do you or do you not consider the United States the only and true Government to which you are accountable?

Lady—Why, we have a Confederate Government, and I suppose when that is fully established, Nashville will be under that rule

Lieut Osgood—Well, Madame, once for all, are you loyal to Abe Lincoln's Government, as it has been is now, and ever shall be, world without end?

Angry Lady—What! Loyal to that nasty, nigger stealing puppy Lincoln! No sir! I am not loyal to him but I am loyal to the Constitution

Lieut Osgood—Well Madame, I am very sorry that you are not a person with whom I would trust my name even on a pass, and for that reason it will be necessary for you to remain at home, in the city

At this point the lady's anger carried her entirely beyond the the bounds of prudence, and she declared her intention to visit her friends at all hazards, saying that she could easily reach them without a pass as she had often done before Her tirade was listened to by the Lieutenant very calmly until finished, when he arose and informed the gentlewoman that if she would not respect the laws and Abe Lincoln it would be necessary to feel their power, and calling a guard he delivered the now infuriated female into their hands, with instructions to hold her under arrest until she should signify her willingness to take the oath of allegiance and give bond for her future good behavior, both of which were done on the evening of the day following the lady's Secesh sympathies having all subsided

A CHOICE OF EVILS —It appears that some men would rather be married than shot In eastern letters we find

The passage of the conscription act is driving great numbers of young men into the bonds of matrimony and from all parts of the country they seem to be taking shelter from the draft in the sunshine of their affections I never knew papers to contain such matrimonial items under the head of "married before In Baltimore, for example the increase of marriage licenses granted last month was nearly sixty more than was granted during the corresponding month last year Returns from other cities show an equal proportion of increase—this too when the number of single men in the country free to marry is less than before, so many thousands of marriageable men being away in the army The excess is accounted for by the fact that the Conscription law exempts married men between the ages of thirty five and forty five A rigid enforcement of the law will double the number of brides and of the population, so look out for the next census

GOOD CROPS IN THE NORTH —Word comes from all quarters of the Northwest that the long continued favorable weather in which farmers have had no interruption of the labors common to the season has insured the sowing of an area in wheat greatly in excess of that put into small grain a year ago The scarcity and high price of labor have been a drawback, but since the great advance in the remainder of the last year's crop both of wheat and corn, has replenished the agricultural exchequer, they are not so grievously felt in what is to come Should the season for growth and harvest compare favorably with seed time, the country may look for a yield that is without example

EXPECTORANT

AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG and found such general favor in every region of country where they have been sold, (and there is no place on the civilized globe where they have not been sold,) that it would be almost superfluous at this time to direct attention to them through the medium The press Yet it is due to suffering humanity and especially to that numerous class who, in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast, suffer from

inducing and ending in CONSUMPTION many of whom may and have used this remedy that they should be advised to read of some of the cases where its influence has been useful to some of the sufferers from which they are suffering The EXPECTORANT

Operates immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT, while the SANATIVE PILLS by preserving regularity in the Bowels and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs, aid and assist in the perfect operation of the former

DR D JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained no relief for my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT After taking it for about three months I was entirely cured. I am now quite as well as any man I am generally blessed with and consider myself entirely cured
